The Mission of The Starkey Hearing Foundation is to promote hearing health awareness through supporting or conducting research, educational, and charitable programs, as well as providing hearing care products and services to people with financial need. SHF's intent is to provide hearing aids, without charge, to individuals who need them but cannot afford them. With the assistance of health professionals who identify recipients, this international outreach has improved many thousands of people's lives. In addition, SHF offers scholarships to hearing-impaired high school and college students, grants to educational institutions that work with hearing impaired students, and educational materials about hearing health to educate the general public. SHF is able to offer these aids because of financial contributions and the hearing aids provided by Starkey Laboratories that are donated to needy recipients around the world.
